

Alone on the Moon

Anthony Trebunski

What is it like?

To be alone and to never speak your mind?

A life secluded, unable to speak.

A life of an actor.

Playing the part for your whole life,

Wearing the mask.

When the mask falls off, you have long become a stranger.

Never able to love,

Always having feelings you can never express.

Forever isolated from the world,

Only able to watch

From afar.
