

My Because Moment

Name: Isabelle Chiu

Div. 2

Gr. 6

A because moment is when something happened and you do something because of it. Sometimes, because moments can change your life forever. For example, some people talk about how they found their career when sharing their because moment. The answers for what is your because moment are endless because everyone has different experiences in life. The more you explore life, the more likely you'll have more because moments to share with your friends and family. You can share your because moment in different ways, such as doing a story studio, drawing a picture or just by talking. I shared my because moment by doing a story studio and I found most items inside my house and one thing outside on the side of my house. My because moment is currently happening right now. The cause is Covid-19 and the effect is spending more time with my family. I wanted to share this because moment because I think that family time is very important and that being able to bond with your family everyday is something that everyone should be able to do especially now during this pandemic. My story studio scene is about my family and I doing many different things at home. We are doing family breakfast every morning, doing physical activity (riding our bikes and playing backyard badminton), baking, movie/game night and sometimes camping (my family calls it hamping because we are camping inside our house in our family room). I used my furniture and other little things from my dolls to make the scene. I also used flowers from outside for the scene. Because of Covid-19, my family spends more time together.
