The Benchwarmers

Posted on November 23, 2016 by [User]

The Benchwarmers is the funniest, grossest, and most exiting movie ever! Here's why. First, for every time a character farted in this movie I would have to give I would probably be poor. It's so funny all the air will be coming out of your mouth not your butt. It is so exiting, from the last minute plays to the out of the park home runs, oh yeah the out of the park baseball bats too! This movie is so gross, to the stinky farts to the 'Beef stew' (those are also farts but worse). And, that's why it is the best movie ever!

Deer lake

At deer lake we went canoeing with Ms. Ford's class and we had a lot of fun. My partner was Richard and we raced with Eric and Maceo we had so much fun at Deer Lake. We also saw some people film a movie that is coming out. I am excited to check the movie out and I hope it will be a good movie.

New Laptops! :)

Posted on January 16, 2017 by [User]

This year my class got new laptops!!! I used one of the laptops to type this reflection. My laptop number is 14, and my laptop partner is Melissa. The laptop goes so smoothly! It doesn't go in a glitch! When I first saw the laptop it looked like a new laptop! When I opened the laptop and saw the keyboard, it looked newer!!! It was shiny and so smooth! In the laptop I worked on Google Drives, 'My Writing Territories' and my eportfolio. In 'My Writing Territories', I put lots of details! In eportfolios, I wrote this reflection! 'New Laptops!' These laptops are just like the one in the Computer Lab except that it is faster and doesn't really go in a glitch. These laptops are great. I love using these laptops! They are awesome!!! 😊

James Cook Writing (What I am proud of, about this writing!)

Posted on January 16, 2017 by

I'm proud of my James Cook writing because I put lots of details and effort in that writing. In some parts of the writing I had to read the book to write down those parts and in some other parts I had to look in the computer to write them down. (In those parts I had to look in the computer to write them down because those parts I were looking for wasn't in the book. Like for example in the book it says that James Cook had a trip to Canada. And it just says Canada, if it just says Canada. Not Canada 'where'. I don't know where in Canada did he travelled to! What I mean by Canada 'where' is that like example: Canada Quebec, Canada Saskatchewan. Something like that.) I worked REALLY hard in my 'James Cook Writing'. This is one fact I remembered from my writing: James Cook got married to Elizabeth Batts. I learned that fact in the Google too! Now I know lots of fact about James Cook! I love my writing I wrote about James Cook! 😊
