

Integrating Drama, Literacy, and Indigenous Learning

for K - Grade 7 Teachers

Teacher Commitment:

- Attend all three sessions and use your professional growth day for two ½ day sessions
- Share your learning!

District Commitment:

- The district will provide you with a book from our series.
- The district will pay for your TTOC for one of these sessions.

For more information, email:
Bryn Williams VPA Consultant
Tanis Anderson, Literacy Consultant
Karla Gamble First People's Resource Teacher

Register on the staff development calendar:

<https://learn.burnabyschools.ca/>

Description:

This 3 part workshop series will focus on how teachers can use literacy skills they are developing with students and strengthen their skills through the use of drama, role play, in-role writing, improvisation and readers' theatre.

Teachers will develop strategies for combining reading and purposeful play to help students deepen their understanding of language, storytelling and reading.

Teachers will be introduced to Indigenous story books and resources and activities that can be used together to create a richer and more diverse curriculum for students in the area of literacy and drama. The core competencies will be explored and activated throughout the series.

Dates:

January 16 – 8:45-11:30

February 13 – 8:45-11:30

April 8 – 8:45-11:30

All sessions will take place at Canada Way Education Centre in room 8.

5310 Woodsworth Street

Register on the staff development
calendar

<https://learn.burnabyschools.ca/>