

BURNABY SCHOOL DISTRICT'S MATH MENTORS

CONTACT THEM FOR SUPPORT, RESOURCES, AND INSPIRATION!

1

Cari Derbitsky: Jo Boaler's Math Mindsets, Number Talks

2

Michelle Chu: Building Thinking Classrooms, assessment, building numeracy through number talks, problem strings (Pam Harris' work)

3

Erica Damiani: Mathematical Mindset and self-talk

4

Livia Chan: Making math engaging, fun & interactive, formative assessment & re-assessment, using Book Creator on the iPad as evidence of learning and using various iPad apps to enhance learning

5

Avery Hollingworth: Using visuals and manipulatives to make math more interactive and accessible. Open ended math questions in a variety of contexts.

6

Jessica Vaughan: Indigenous connections such as Yup'ik border patterns, measurement of time, weaving patterns

7

Iuliia Sukhina-Volkova: Math provocations, solving problems, solving puzzles as an engaging way to develop thinking skills.

8

Jill McQueen: Making math fun and accessible for all students using visuals and manipulatives.

9

Andrea Deterra: Curriculum Design, applied math and ADST, Concept Based Learning, Project Based Learning, Math Games and differentiation for advanced learners

10

Stephanie Lundrigan: Having all learners believe they can do math and enjoy it, Mindset Math and Building Thinking Classrooms; Identifying math in everyday surroundings, particularly outside

Contact these Math Mentors through your SD41 district email!